

Explore Your Creative Side With Open Studio Classes On Saturday, January 25

Nurture your inner artist on Saturday, January 25, with a sampling of classes held at art studios in Hudson, Ohio. Open Studio classes are a chance for participants to step out of their comfort zones and explore their creativity in actual working artists' studios.

The classes begin at 10am, noon, 2pm and 4pm and run about an hour, giving participants a chance to visit each studio. Space is limited at all locations, so pre-registration is suggested. Drop-in students are welcome, space permitting.

Classes offered:

- Art and the Mona Lisa: Teens and adults can learn to create that perfect portrait or landscape by using mathematical skills.
- Basics of Drawing: Beginners can be comfortable learning the basic drawing skills in this class.
- Exploring Color with Paint and Pastel: Get a better understanding of how to mix and use colors in various media.
- Family Studio Painting: A specially designed class that lets parents and children learn together. Participants will explore and create individual landscape paintings in acrylic.
- Figure Drawing: Practice drawing the human form while working from a live model (clothed).
- Inspirational Art Journaling: Use paint, ink, collage and more to design a journal page that taps into goals and dreams for the New Year.
- Mixed Media: Combine multiple techniques and media in this fun and engaging class.
- Simple Chainmaille Earrings: Learn the basics of chainmaille, an intricate jewelry technique where metal rings are woven to make a pair of earrings.
